

Blue Yeti Nano USB Microphone - Grey

Blue Yeti Nano is a premium USB microphone designed for broadcast-quality podcasting, YouTube productions, game streaming, Skype/VoIP and voice over work. Inspired by the #1-selling Blue Yeti microphone, Yeti Nano features 24-bit sound quality and plug 'n play operation for instant streaming with your PC or Mac in a compact design. The premium finish looks great on camera and on any desktop. With a no-latency headphone output and controls for headphone volume, mic mute and pickup pattern, Yeti Nano is the essential mic for modern broadcasters. Key Features Your Message - Loud and Clear: Yeti Nano includes everything you need to broadcast your message with crystal clarity. Blue designed two new proprietary mic capsules specifically tuned to give your voice exceptional presence and detail. Plus, Yeti Nano supports high-quality 24-bit/48kHz recording. So you can give your podcast, video or Twitch stream even better production value. Whether you're gaming, making a business call, or recording something new, you'll be heard loud and clear every time. Designed For Easy Streaming and Recording: Every aspect of this microphone is designed to help modern broadcasters record and stream easily. The compact footprint and all-new aesthetic fits perfectly on any desktop and looks great on camera. The built-in metal stand makes it easy to adjust the angle of the mic exactly where you need it. Capture Your Voice, Or Many: Whether you plan to record a single source, or multiple sources at once, Yeti Nano gives you flexibility with two pickup-pattern modes to choose from. Simply tap the pattern-selection button to set the one that's right for your project. Cardioid mode is perfect for podcasts with a single host, game streaming, Skype calls, vocal performances, voiceovers and instruments. Omnidirectional mode is best used when you want to have a conference call with multiple participants in the same room, or record a multi-person interview for a podcast. Hassle-Free Setup: Yeti Nano couldn't be easier to set up and use. Simply plug the microphone into a USB port on your Mac or PC, and you're ready to record or stream right away. Yeti Nano is compatible with a wide range of software and operating systems. So when you connect to your computer, Yeti Nano is automatically recognised and ready to broadcast your voice in stunning detail. *Not all colours featured are available.
