

Panasonic KX- TGD320NZB Single Handset Cordless Phone

The Panasonic KX-TGD320NZB Single Handset Cordless Phone makes a handy phone for home and office use. It lets you stay on top of your errands with its convenient long-lasting battery, Power Back-Up Operation, Eco Function, and Advanced Answering System features. Key Features Panasonic KX-TGD320NZB is supplied with a long-lasting battery life of up to 16-hours in one charge, providing you extended communication time. This cordless phone lets you make and receive calls using the handset even during a power outage thanks to its Power Back-Up Operation settings that provide temporary power supply to the base unit when it's fully charged. Its Advanced Answering System notifies you when you've received new messages by sending alerts on your mobile phone while you're away or alerting you by sounds on the base unit when at home. Complete with a Do Not Disturb mode and Nuisance Call Block system, it easily blocks any number. You can mute this cordless phone for unknown callers and unmute it for specific people. Panasonic KX-TGD310NZB gives you secure communications, protecting your calls from your base unit and cordless handset (device sold separately) using DECT Security encrypts. Easily manage this cordless phone's menus, setting and functions even in lowlight areas thanks to its large 1.8-inch White Backlit LCD screen. Extend your phone's battery life when the base unit and cordless handset is close to one another thanks to its Eco Functionality.
